VOL. CXXXI—64. ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA, TUESDAY, MARCH 16, 1915. PRICE, 2 CENTS

GREAT BRITIAN IS INEXORABLE

Will Not Recede From Purpose to Blockade German Ports

IS BACKED BY ALLIES.

United States Will Enter Formal Protest—Serious Situation Likely to Follow Movement.

Washington, March 16—The protests of the United States and other neutrals notwithstanding Great Britain will not back down from the position she has taken with respect to her embargo on German commerce This is the word reaching Washington today.

The text of the order in council, which has been published in the press discloses that in issuing this order, Great Britain has the backing of her allies. They have set out to starve Germany, and the German "war zone" order and the German submarine war on English and allied vessels, as well as on neutral vessels, have afforded them a plausible pretext.

Already there is a great protest in this country against the order. Signs are numerous that American commercial interests will be hard hit.

The Washington Government will protect formally and no doubt will protest firmly. Other neutrals also will protest. But thus far there is little substantial reason to believe Great Britain and her allies will let up in their determination to make use of their command of the sea to shut off as far as possible not only war supplies but all commerce with Germany.

It is recognized here that a serious situation is created, but on the other hand the ability of the United Staes and other neutrals to remedy that situation is extremely doubtful.

BLOCKADE BY ENGLAND

Property Seized Will Not Be Confiscated Outright.

London, March 16—Great Britain made known to the world yesterday in a formal proclamation signed in council by king and issued from Buckingham palace how she proposes to sever all the arteries of sea commerce to and from Germany during the period of the war.

As in Premier Asquith's speech forecasting the order, the term "blockade" is not used and no prohibited area is defined. Nevertheless the text of the order makes plain England's purposes—to prevent commodities of any kind from reaching or leaving Germany during the war.

British officials frankly call the movement a blockade, the foreign office describing it as an effective blockade, differing from the effective blockades of history only in that the property seized will not be confiscated outright, but sold, the proceeds eventually going to the owners.

In the last clause of the proclamation is the proposal most interesting to neutrals. This is a flat agreement to lift the "blockade" in case any nation will certify that the ships flying its flag shall not carry goods to Germany, or originating therein or belonging to the subjects of the German empire.

FACES CHARGES BY CHILD.

Little Girl Victim of Outrageous Attack in Newport News.

Newport News, March 16.—Luring his victim to a secluded spot near Eighteenth Street and the river with candy and pennies, S. J. C. Robins, aged 26 years, white, on Sunday attempted to ill-treat eleven-year-old white girl, whose family has lived here but a short time.

Robins, who gave his home as Hampton, told the police that he was the girl's nucle. The child's parents, the police say, state that they do not know Robins.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A suspended sentence of five years in Fort Leavenworth Federal Prison was the penalty imposed yesterday by Federal Judge Killits on James J. Henahan, former paying teller in the Second National Bank here, after Henahan, had pleaded guilty of embezzling $4,700 to finance his wedding trip. The shortage has been paid by friends.

The hotels and the better-class boarding houses in Copenhagen are crowded with well-to do Germans who are ineligible for military service. It is said that those people, responding to an appeal from the Government, are leaving Germany in large numbers in order that there will be fewer people to feed while hte war lasts. It is reported from Sweden and Norway that many other Geramns of similar class have arrived in those countries.

A dispatch from Copenhagen says the German Reichstag has appointed a commission to consider the food question with relation to the human body with a view to determining the exact limit of nourishment absolutely necessary for each individual.

Following a grand jury investigation Mayor Rollin H. Bunch and Deputy Prosecutor Gene Williams, of Munice, Ind., were arrested yesterday on indictments which charge them with accepting bribes. Mayor Bunch is charged in the true bill with having accepted $1,600 from Lloyd Yount, an agent for a slot machine concern, and Deputy Prosecutor Williams is charged with having accepted $100 from Yount. All three men were released on bond.

Forty men are reported killed by the explosion of a barrel of butter being loaded aboard the Mexican gunboat Progesso on February 27 in the harbor of Progreso, Mexico.

Two members of the family of Will Balding, of Terre Haute, were found dead and four others were probably fatally hurt yesterday as the result of an attack, evidently by a maniac. The head of each of the six was crushed with a flatiron which was found lying beside one of the bodies.

Turkish soldiers are reported to have massacred sixty Greek families in the village of Yemeri, Asia Minor. At Avilik Musselman troops have terrorized the town, killing six of the native inhabitants and also forty Greeks. This news created new tension in Athens, as the Turkish government recently pledged itself to protect all Greeks in Ottoman territory.

The Italian Minister of Posts and Telegraphs has issued orders suspending the exchange of telegraphic money orders with Austria-Hungary. Orders also were issued suppressing the traveling postoffice on trains bound for the Autrian frontier. According to a dispatch from Vienna Emperor Francis Joseph has had an extended conversation with Gen. Ritter von Krobatin, the Austro-Hungarian Minister of War, on the subject of the defense of the Dual Monarchy on the Italian frontier.

The amount donated to Billy Sunday on the closing day of the campaign in Philadelphia, already totals more than $65,000, and the flood of checks, bills and gold continues to pour into the Land Title Trust Company in such quantity that the tellers estimate the total will exceed $80,000. Persons associated with Sunday estiamted that the evangelist will receive about $65,000 from the donations at the tabernacle Sunday. Hundreds of persons who either were not able to reach the tabernacle, or did not try, are sending their contributions by messenger and mail.

GERMANS AGAIN ON OFFENSIVE

Determined Attempts to Destroy Strong Fortress in Poland

PLANING FOR A SMASH

Persistent Attacks of Russian Cavalry Holding Teutons at Safe Distance From Przasnysz.

Petrograd, March 16—A determined attempt to demolish the strong Polish fortress of Ossowetz has been begun by the Germans, according to dispatches from the battle front today.

The Germans apparently plan a terrific smash there to be simultaneous with the expected assault upon Przasnysz.

"The enemy is bringing his batteries closer to the forts of Ossowetz today's war office statement admits. "The fighting at this point continues to our advantage."

This is the first time since the German movement against Ossowetz begun that the Russian general staff has admitted a German forward movement in front of the forts.

North and Northwest of Przasnysc large German forces have entrenched several miles from the town. Their heavy guns are bombarding the Russian positions on the outskirts but persistent attacks by the Russian cavalry are holding the enemy at a safe distance from Przasnysz itself.

The war office insist that despite the most savage attacks by the Austrians attemping to relieve Przemysl they have gained no ground for several weeks in the fighting north of the Uszok pass. Replying to the fresh onslaughts by the Austrians, Russian artillerymen are now heavily bombarding Przemysl.

KAISER BANISHES SON

Crown Prince Removed from Army Command and Confined in Lonely Castle

Paris, March 16—The mystery of the whereabouts of the German crown prince was penetrated last night when the news received from Alace that the Kaiser had banished his eldest son to a remote castle in Germany.

Several disputes occurred between the Kaiser and his son soon after the outbreak of the war. These finally culminated in a violent quarrel. As the result of a proclamation issued to his troops at Christmas time the Kaiser summoned him to Potsdam where they again quarrelled violently, the Kaiser accusing his son of being meddlesome.

The Emperor's fury is said to have been terrible and as a climax of his wrathy tirade he almost struck his willful heir. Then, suddenly he grew deadly calm, and, divesting himself of his role of father, and acting as commander in chief of the army, he stripped the crown prince of his rank in the Prusian army and banished him to solitude, where his voice cannot be heard.

NOT AFTER PRESIDENCY

Ex-Senator Root Says He Will Not Run Under Any Conditions

Albany, N. Y. March 16—Under no circumstances will former United States Senator Elihu Root be a candidate for President in 1916. He made this statement here yesterday.

"All talk of my being a candidate is absolute nonsense" he declared. "Such a thing is impossible."

Mr. Root's visit to Albany was made, he said, for the purpose of acquainting himself with his duties as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention, which will begin April 6. While here he conferred with Republican leaders of the Legislature.

WAITING FOR GERMAN SHIP

Warships off Virginia Capes Hoping for Chance at Prinz Eitel Friedrich.

Newport News, Va., March 16—French, as well as British, warships are cruising outside Virginia Capes, wating to attack the German commerce destroyer Prinz Eitel Friedrich if she attempts to make for the high seas again. There are said to be two British and two French men of war, and they have come to stay until the Eitel reappears or interns for the war.

An officer of English freighter Anglo-Patagonian, which arrived here Sunday told of the watching cruisers and from him it became known for the first time that the movements of the Eitel were known to the allies' warcraft for several days before she reached Hampton Roads.

According to the officer's story, the Anglo-Patagonian was warned last Sunday by a British cruiser that the German ship was about, and told to slow up. During the next three days he said, his ship made less than 300 knots. Then, on Wednesday, came this relieving message through the air from the British warships: "The Eitel Fredrich has passed into the Virginia Capes, and will never come out alive."

It is understood the allies' squadron made every effort to head off the German, but could not come up with him or reach the Capes first.

TO COUNT EVERY CHILD.

Census Ordered State Board Includes all Between Seven And Twenty.

Richmond, March 16.—Preparations are being completed for the State Board of Public School census to be begun next month. District school clerks and their deputies will count all the children in Virginia between the ages of seven years and twenty. They will report the total number of boys and girls, both white and colored.

This census is taken every five years. Upon it the new educational apportionments will be made. In addition to reporting the number of children in their respective district the census takers will make a report upon illiteracy and upon the number of deaf and blind children.

The total enrollment in the public schools in Virginia last season was 442,721. This year it is estimated at about 480,000.

In 1905 there were in Virginia 580,618 children between the ages of seven and twenty years. Of that number 361,772 regularly attended the public schools.

In 1910 the census showed 616,168 children in the State of school age, of which 402,109 were enrolled in the public schools.

MINISTER ATTACKS BOARD

Rev. Dr. Thomas Semmes, Alleges Bad Faith on Part of Commissioners.

Richmond, March 16—Bad faith on the part of the board of Police Commissioners in connection with commercialized vice in Richmond is directly charged in a statement issued yesterday by Rev. Thomas Semmes, D. D., rector of Meade Memorial Episcopal Church. Dr. Semmes charges that when the Ministerial Union of Richmond, three years ago, tolerated the existence of a segregated district, of which it could not approve it did so with express understanding that certain other abuses would be suppressed. Recent reports of the Vice Commission have shown that this agreement was only partly kept as to some conditions, and not at all as to others....

Dr. Semmes says report of the Vice Commission showed, not only that the number of disorderly house had not been decreased, but that there were found twice as many outside of the district as in it; that the separation of the white and colored races had not been enforced and that liquor was openly sold in many houses with the knowledge and asquiescence of the Police Department.

On the other hand, vigorous resistance is expected from the Carranzistas.

The State Department is in constant touch with Tampico, and has made arrangements to protect American interests there.

The Department still is awaiting word as to what action is being taken to punish the murderers of John B. McManus.

LAW TAKE ITS COURSE.

Kansas City Father Discards Son Squandered $100,000.

Kansas City, Mo., March 16.—A young man who has had too much money came to the end of his rope yesterday. He had been gay, his father was wealthy and indulgent. His mother fancies still that he was the finest boy in the world.

His home was in Bartletsville, Oklahoma, where he was known as a "demon in his own town." He used to come to Kansas City and pass bad checks, on the proceeds of which he got in all sorts of trouble.

His name is Claud L. Graybill. His father is M. E. Graybill, an oil land operator, head of a contracting firm, owner of oil wels and various other valuable property. Claud is 28 years old and has a wife, but separated from her.

Three weeks ago he came here and cashed four drafts on his father. The father contrary to his usual custom, refused to make good. The boy had squandered $100,000, it is said, and the father said it was time to stop. In a letter to Judge Latshaw, the father said the boy was always in trouble, and his countless scrapes were getting monotonous. He asked the court to let the law takes its course.

The young man said yesterday he couldn't understand wh at was the matter with his father. He had always make good on bad checks and drafts before.

Pale, tall, the prisoner stood before Judge Latshaw wondering what was the matter with his father.

He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The loss is estimated at $100,000. The fire started in the machinery building and spread to the lumber shed. Flying embers set fire to a big pile of lumber in the yard. The roof of the planing mill was burned, but the building and its contents were not damaged.

SEND DRESDEN TO BOTTOM.

German Cruiser Encountered British Ships off Juan Fernandez

London, March 16—The British admiralty announced that the German cruiser Dresden had been sunk. The admiralty issued the following statement:

"On the 14th of March, at 9 a. m. H. M. S. Glasgow, Capt. John Luce R. N. H. M. auxiliary cruiser Orama, Capt. John R. Segrave, R. N. and H. M. S. Kent, Capt. John D. Allen, C. B. R. N. caught the Dresden near Juan Fernandez Islands.

"An action ensued and after five minutes' fighting the Dresden hauled down her colors and displayed the white flag. She was much damaged and set on fire, and after she had been burning for some time her magazine exploded and she sank.

"The crew were saved, fifteen badly wounded. Germans are being landed at Valpariso.

"There were no British casualties and no damage to the ships."

The Dresden was a member of the German squadron which was defeated by the British squadron off the Falkland Islands in December, she was the only one of the five German warships to escape.

KILLED BY A FALL.

Little Girl Loses Her Life While Attempting to Close a Shutter.

Washington, March 16.—Tragedy hung its pall over the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. McDonald, of 1006 East Capitol street, early today when their seven-year-old daughter, Frances, while attempting to close a window on the second floor of the house lost her balance and was fatally injured by a fall to the yard about ten feet below. The child died at Casualty Hospital two hours later as the result of her injuries.

Complaining of the chilliness of her bed room, the child arose and climbed to the window sill to lower the window. Her strength was taxed in the attempt. Her hands slipped from the window and she lost her balance and plunged headlong to the ground.

Picked up in an unconsicous condition by her mother, the child was borne into the house and the Casualty Hospital ambulance was summoned. At the hospital it was found that the little victim was suffering from a fracture of the base of the skull.

AFTERMATH OF THE SESSI

General Assembly Holding Constructive Sessions This Week

MANY BILLS SIGNED.

Leaders Say Legislation Forms Foundation For More Equitable Tax Revision System of State.

Richmond, March 16—Both branches of the Legislature met in "constructive" session yesterday afternoon Constructive sessions will continue throughout the week. Only the presiding officers, the clerks and a few members will be present, the real session of the General Assembly being over. The constructive sesions are to enable the president of the Senate and the Speaker of the house to sign certain bills and to see that enrollment has been properly executed.

The first of the constructive sessions was held Saturday afternoon. Even then there was scarcely a quorum present, so many members having left Richmond for their homes immediately upon the adjournment of the morning session.

Governor Stuart, who called the special session of the Legislature has signed the last of the tax revision bills, and the segregation plan of adjustment and equalization will become effective immediately. Though it is admitted by leaders in both branches of the Assembly that the tax bill is not perfect, they are unanimous in declaring that it furnishes a splendid foundation upon which future Legislatures may build a complete and equitable system of tax revision.

The extra session was called to continue one month. It was found, however, that neither branch of the Legislature could do the necessary work in that time, so at the suggestion of the Governor, a three weeks' recess was taken at the end of the first thirty days. Then at the expiration of the recess the Legislature met again for one week, this week being up Saturday afternoon when final adjournment, sine die was ordered.

The principal bill passed by the Legislature is the segregation bill. Next in importance is the "machinery" bill, by which the State Auditor is given the power to discover any tax "hidden" intangibles.

One of the disappointments to many members was the failure of the Torrens land bill to pass the Senate after it had received the approval of an overwhelming majority in the House. The bill, the purpose of which is to establish and guarantee land titles, has been passed in a number of other states.

Governor Stuart has signed nineteen of the bills passed by the General Assembly during the post recess session last week. There are remaining before the Governor about twenty more of these bills. Clerk John W. Williams, of the House of Delegates, and his staff are busily engaged enrolling a batch even larger than that now in the hands of the executive.

REAPPEARANCE OF OLD GLORY.

American steamers flying the stars and stripes, loading with made in U. S. A. products, bound for Spanish Main are now to be seen at all Atlantic ports.

The trade routes that Drake and his crew of freebooting heroes originated in their task of plundering Spanish cities of South America are followed by more American ships than European now, where a few months ago, it was the Union Jack or Norwegian, or German flag that flew from the mastheads of the ships in the tropics.

Big business, the kind that deals in millions no longer needs urging to seize its opportunity, and the little fellow, who deals in thousands instead of millions, is following the leaders.

A dozen or more ships are clearing every week for Argentine and Brazil, and for ports on the west coast of South America, via the canal.

And South American goods are coming back in American bottoms.

The truth of the saying, "It's an evil wind that blows no one good," is often illustrated, and the fearful war in Europe which virtually destroyed the ocean trade of the participants, is bringing good results to America.

Since the close of the civil war in this country but few ocean vessels have displayed the stars and stripes. Confederate cruisers during the four years' strife almost eliminated the American flag from the sea. About twenty years ago the American Line of steamers began to sail under the stars and stripes, the first time our colors had flown at the taffrail of trans-Atlantic steamers since the fifties when the old Collins Line ships plied between the old and new world. When the war between the states was precipitated the ships of that line were chartered by the government and they occasionally appeared at Alexandria to which port they brought soldiers or transported them hence to the peninsula and other places.

The Baltic left here during the latter part of the war crowded with soldiers for a southern point. While passing through the Kettle Bottoms she ran upon one of the lumps which formed a menace to navigation at that time between Cobb's Point and Blackistone's Island, where she remained for some time.

The Atlantic, another of the Collins' Liners, lay at the wharves at the foot of King street for some time during the year 1865, where she was visited by many Alexandrians, she being at that time the largest steamship which ever reached this port.

The reference to the Collins Line will bring to mind a scrap of ante-bellum history. The steamers were built in the early fifties as competitors to those forming the Cunard Line of Great Britain. They were the Arctic, Baltic, and Atlantic. The Arctic left Liverpool for New York shortly after the inauguration of the line and has never been heard of since. The British government had subsidized the Cunard Line for the purpose of forcing the American competitors out of business. The managers of the Collins Line soon found that their steamers could not be operated with profit without federal aid. Congress refused to come to the rescue and the withdrawal of the steamers followed.

When the war broke out a line was operated between New York and Havre which displayed the American flag. Cornelius Vanderbilt, sr., was the projector. The flagship of the fleet bore his name and the Vanderbilt was the fastest steamer afloat at that time. The steamers of this line passed to the control of the government when the civil war broke out, and the few remaining vessels flying the stars and stripes on the Atlantic were chased from the sea by the Sumter, Florida, Alabama, Shenandoah and other Confederate vessels.

Newspaper Man is Walking From New York to San Augustine.

Leo Beckwith, a free lance newspaper man of New York City reached Alexandria last night on a walking trip to San Augustine, Fla. He went to the Hotel Rammel and asked for a room and breakfast and after he had told his story he was the guest of the hotel for the night and day. Beckwith made a wager ten days ago with Howard Flynn, another newspaper man, that he could walk to San Augustine without begging any money or without working. He stopped at the best hotels on his way south, having been entertained for two days in Baltimore at the Hotel Rennert and two days at the Ebbitt in Washington. He expects to reach St. Augustine in five weeks. He left for Manassas at noon today.

JUMPED FROM FIFTH FLOOR.

Woman Struggles to Keep Sister From Making Plunge.

New York, March 16.—A great throng stood electrified yesterday afternoon at Fifth Avenue and Thirtieth street, while they watched two grey-haired women struggling fiercely before a window on the fifth floor of the Holland House. Frightened cries rose above the hum of the traffic. Then by an effort the heavier of the women wrenched herself free, mounted the window sill and plunged headlong downward.

Her body crashed upon a glass canopy which spanned the sidewalk, paused for a moment and then amid a shower of broken glass dropped heavily to the pavement. The woman was Miss Theresa J. Nicholson, of Little Neck, Long Island, sister of J. J. Nicholson, prominent in Chicago. The woman who had fought to prevent the leap was her sister, Miss Mary Nicholson, of St. Paul.

At 2 p. m. the women had engaged a room for a few hours stating that they would be there only until J. J. Nicholson called for them. Miss Mary explained that Miss Theresa had been ill and was to be taken to a sanitarium.

At New York Hospital, where the woman is a prisoner it was found that she had sustained a fractured shoulder, lacerations and internal injuries. She probably will recover.

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 18, 1909, contains an article on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis, Based on the Assumption That the Dietetic Cause of th Disease is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John C. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. . . . Among inorganic substances the salts appear to be of special physiological importance . . . but if the salts are not in organic combination it is difficult to suppose that the cells can appropriate them for food."

Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Rexall Cherry Alterative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily appropriated by the cells.

Does this [illegible] much to explain the results obtained in many [illegible] cases, which appeared to [illegible] to Beckman's Alterative?

HOUSTON TO PRESENT STATUE

University of Virginia Will Honor Its Founder April 13.

Charlottesville, Va., March 16—Secretary D. F. Houston, Department of Agriculture, will participate in the exercises commemorating founder's day at the University of Virginia on April 13 according to an announcement by President Edwin A Alderman.

Secretary Houston will present to the university the statue of Thomas Jefferson, which was done in bronze by Carl Bitter and for which the university is indebted to Charles R. Crane, of Chicago. The statue will occupy a commanding site on the lawn, facing Monticello and directly opposite the statue of Washington, which was presented to the university by John T. Lupton, of Chattanooga.

The Jefferson statue is a replica of the one unveiled at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition at St. Louis.

After the presentation by Secretary Houston, the statue will be accepted by President Alderman on behalf of the university.

The principal address on founder's day will be delivered by President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern Railway. Lectures will be suspended on that day and students and faculty will march in academic procession from the rotunda to Cabell Hall.

PENNSYLVANIA LAUNCHED.

Brilliant Company Took Part in Ceremony at Newport News.

Newport News, March 16.—When the Pennsylvania was launched this morning there was present in the great shipbuilding town one of the most noted assemblages it has had since in its yards the first keel was laid. There were present Goovernor Stuart, Governor Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania; Secretary of Navy Josephus Daniels; State Attorney-General Brown, of Pennsylvania, and ex-Governors Stuart and Pennypacker, members of the Pennsylvania delegation in Congress, delegations from the Pennsylvania State Legislature, and many naval officers. A large party went from Richmond.

Miss Elizabeth L. Kolb, of Germantown, Pa., called by Governor Brumbaugh "the sweetest girl in Pennsylvania" broke a bottle of champagne over the giant battleship's bow and christened her after the second largest State in the Union in population. Some one pressed a little trigger, and the vast hull of 1,400 tons glided easily down the ways and into the waiting waters.

Socially the day culminated with the launching luncheon, at which the Governors of Pennsylvania, and Virginia, and Secretary Daniels were the guests of honor.

The Pennsylvania has been two years in building, and it will be February 28, 1916, the third anniversary of the laying of her keel, before she will be commissioned.

In speed, in armor thickness, in the power of her batteries, in displacement, the Pennsylvania outranks any fighting vessel in the world. She has four turrets with three 14-inch guns each, a total of twelve 14-inch turret guns, and at a single broadside they will hurl seven and a half tons twelve miles across the sea. She will be manned by a crew of 683 men, with sixty-five officers, and will carry a marine detachment of 740 men. When completed the Pennsylvania will have cost approximately $13,000,000. She will be the ninth Dreadnought of the United States Navy, with three building.

SENDS INSTRUCTIONS.

Assessment of Personal Property Will be Made This Year According to New Laws.

Richmond, March 16.—Under the new tax law the State Advisory Board, consisting of the Auditor, the chairman of the State Corporation Commission and the Governor, exercises a general supervision over the work of the local Boards of Review, Commissioners of the Revenue, Tax Assessors and Examiners of Records.

Instructions as to how Commissioners of the Revenue shall proceed in making up their land books are given in a circular letter prepared by Auditor Moore yesterday, which is being sent to every commissioner in the State. It reads as follows:

Richmond, Va., March 16, 1915.

Commissioners of the Revenue:

Gentlemen,—I am now able to advise you to proceed with the work upon your land books. Do not extend upon these books any State tax for the support of the government or for payment of pensions. Extend only the State school tax of 10 cents in the column provided for that purpose.

You will not be able to extend county, town or city levies until advised by the proper authorities what those levies will be for 1915.

If you have taken any personal property interrogatories retain them and use them so far as they relate to tangible personal property, but I advise that you do not take other personal interrogatories until I forward blank form of interrogatory for assessing intangible personal property and money for assessing incomes. Under the law I must this year provide separate blanks for the assessment of intangible personal and money, and for the assessment of incomes.

You will not be able to use that part of the interrogatories which you have already taken which relates to intangible personal property and money and incomes, but can use that part which relates to tangible personal property.

You will, therefore, for 1915, take three interrogatories, one for tangible personal property, one for intangible personal property and money, and one for incomes.

I will, in a few days, advise you by circular letter respecting the assessment of shares of stock of banks.

Yours very truly.

C. LEE MOORE.
Auditor Public Accounts.

MISS COOK'S EMPLOYER SUED.

New Haven, March 16.—Virginius J. Mayo, president of the Mayo Radiator Company, employer of Lillian May Cook, who committed suicide here recently, was made the defendant yesterday in an action brought by Susie Wahler, a former clerk, who alleges that Mayo is the father of her 2-year-old girl.

Following the serving of the papers, Mayo went to the office of Justice of the Peace Land, where bond was offered in his behalf. Mayo then departed and called at the office of his counsel.

Justice Land explained that while the charge was brought under the statutes, the action may be termed "semi-criminal, that is, it is civil in nature and criminal in character.

A CONFESSION

Hopes Her Statement, Made Public, will Help Other Women.

Hines, Ala.—"I must confess", says Mrs. Eula Mae Reid, of this place, "that Cardui, the woman's tonic, has done me a great deal of good.

Before I commenced using Cardui, I would spit up everything I ate. I had a tired, sleepy feeling all the time, and was irregular. I could hardly drag around, and would have severe headaches continuously.

Since taking Cardui, I have entirely quit spitting up what I eat. Everything seems to digest all right, and I have gained 10 pounds in weight."

If you are a victim of any of the numerous ills so common to your sex, it is wrong to suffer.

For half a century, Cardui has been relieving just such ills, as is proven by the thousands of letters, similar to the above, which pour into our office, year by year.

Cardui is successful because it is composed of ingredients which act specifically on the womanly constitution, and helps build the weakened organs back to health and strength.

Cardui has helped others, and will help you, too. Get a bottle today. You won't regret it. Your druggist sells it.
